The One and Only You

You are a unique expression of God's creation. There's never been anyone like you – and there never will be. God designed you with everything you need to fulfill the one-of-a-kind ministry assignment He has given to you.

The you ... you are is the sum of the components of your divine design. Your life story hasn't been a haphazard, random set of experiences; rather, everything that has happened in your life has been for two reasons – to make you more like Jesus Christ and to prepare you for the work God has for you.

God has given you spiritual gifts and natural abilities to make a Kingdom-difference in the world. He has embedded in your heart a passion to meet a need; to solve a problem; or to infuse a core value in the world.

From your mother's womb God has formed your temperament that affects how you take in, process, and act upon information. It is the way you see the world, relate to others, make decisions, and communicate your ideas.

Do you know the you ... you are? Plato wrote, "The unexamined life is not worth living." Isn't it time to examine your life to understand who you are, why you are here, and how God wants to work through you to make a difference in the world?
